

CHADRON STATE COLLEGE

Dear Students,

Thank you for patience as we continue to transition to remote delivery. We know the decision by the college to move to remote delivery of all classes impacts all of you in different ways. Please know that the major reason for that decision was to keep you as healthy as we could in order for you to earn your degree. Your well-being and education are our top priorities. Before classes resume Monday, please visit the Student Remote Learning Resources web page. The information on that page is intended to help you during our transition to remote learning and will continue to be updated, so please check it often.

In the past couple of days we've heard from several students who live on-campus and have meal plans regarding reimbursement and possibly moving home. I assure you, we have heard the feedback and incorporated that into our response. We encourage students to return to their homes, if that is possible, but if you decide to stay on campus, please know you're more than welcome. All of our services are available to you, including residence halls, the library, and the dining hall. If you remain on campus, you will be supported.

Students who choose to vacate the residence halls will receive a prorated housing and meal plan refund. To inform the Housing and Residence Life Office that you are canceling, you must email cshousing@csc.edu. If you email the Housing and Residence Life Office by Monday, March 23, you will receive a 60 percent refund based on the prorated costs associated with your housing and meal plans. The refunds will be prorated from March 15. If you choose to move out at a later date, you will receive a refund prorated to the remaining days in the semester. If you receive a prorated housing and meal plan refund the balance will be applied to your student account. If a refund is due to you, a check or direct deposit will be issued. For more information, please contact the Housing and Residence Life Office at 308-432-7081.

Once you declare your checkout date, you will not be required to remove your belongings until the end of the semester. Feel free to return to campus at your convenience to remove your belongings.

The college has also received questions about reimbursements for tuition and fees. Since classes are continuing Monday through the end of the spring semester, there will not be refunds for tuition or fees.

Thank you for your cooperation and patience. To find all college updates related to this public health emergency, visit csc.edu/covid19.

Very Respectfully,

Jon Hansen
